

Digital Designer

Location: Caledonian Road, London

Salary: £30,000 - £35,000

As a young agency and one of the fastest-growing new creative forces in London, Crucible is looking for an experienced Digital Designer to take the lead on some of their largest projects and produce some award-winning work in 2018 and beyond.

You'll be eager, innovative and daring in your concepts, and polished and professional in your portfolio. A bachelor's degree would help, but a strong portfolio is far more important. Please supply portfolio links or documents with your application.

Designing for sectors across all areas of industry, you're sure never to be bored in our quickly expanding team. As the agency's work is moving far more into the digital sphere, the impact of your work will dramatically shape the direction the company takes moving forwards and so offers excellent opportunities for growth and development.

About the Role:

Working alongside their Creative Director, you may find yourself busy with any of the following: briefing meetings, taking part in concept development discussions, working on digital UI and UX briefs from concept to completion, generating concepts and ideas with the creative team, and meeting & presenting to clients.

Work could be tailored to suit your skillset - the company is still at an early stage in their development where they work with new clients from a variety of sectors with a range of project demands.

About You:

- 3+ years of design experience within agency or in-house roles, or equivalent freelance experience
- Strong portfolio demonstrating variety of design skills & experience
- Working knowledge of Adobe software, Sketch and prototyping tools
- Excellent communication skills (verbal & written)
- Strong knowledge and understanding of key UI and UX principles
- A working understanding of the possibilities and limitations of HTML and CSS
- Experience of creating responsive designs for cross-platform display
- Creative flair & excellent design skills
- Ability to work independently
- Strong attention to detail
- Ability to deliver high quality work under pressure and to strict deadlines
- Passion for new software, technology, design trends & new media

Junior Project Manager

Location: Caledonian Road, London
Salary: £25,000

As a young agency and one of the fastest-growing new creative forces in London, Crucible is looking for an experienced Project Manager to take the lead on some of their largest projects and help manage and produce some award-winning work in 2018 and beyond.

This is an excellent opportunity for a confident, entrepreneurial graduate or account manager wanting to take a step up who wants to take part in the development of an exciting, expanding company. You will work directly with the Managing Director and Senior Project Manager to help manage some of the company's most interesting projects, with excellent prospects for promotion as the company expands. You will be actively encouraged to challenge the status quo and to bring new insights and dynamism to the role, giving you a pivotal role in the growth and direction of the company.

While at least some of the experience and skills listed below are required, most of them can be considered merely desirable, as some training will be given. Experience within design or the creative sector is desirable, but is by no means a requirement.

You would be suited to the role if you are a good all-rounder with excellent organisational skills, the ability to take decisions using your own initiative, and the desire to help the company grow, while also developing your own career.

Benefits:

- Excellent career development prospects
- Collaborative and supportive atmosphere
- Good personal network development prospects
- Flexible working hours
- Central London location

Responsibilities:

- Providing administrative support to the team
- Sticking to strong project management practices and workflows
- Meeting with clients and discussing their projects and goals
- Setting timelines, schedules and budgets for projects and managing these with your team
- Liaising with and managing relationships between clients, suppliers, and in-house departments
- Understand briefs and the creative process to help identify the best methods and approaches
- Proactively identifying and solving issues and mitigating risks

Requirements:

- Bachelor's degree or equivalent work experience
- Strong organisational skills
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills
- Fast learner and able to take on new complex tasks
- Proficient with Microsoft Office
- Close attention to detail
- Strong client-facing skills
- Proactive and confident working as part of a team

If this position sounds attractive, please apply by sending your CV.
